Point-of-Purchase Display Substrate Comparison Guide

	Advantages	Disadvantages
Foam Core 3/16" foam sandwiched between rigid paper	Foam core is ideal for presenting large signs that are easy to move. Foam core works great for cut outs and life size displays.	Not suitable for outdoor use, Foam core can be dented and must be transported carefully.
GatorFoam® 3/16" polystyrene with bright white fiber wood veneer	Similar uses as foam board except more durable. GatorFoam® can be used for short term outdoor uses.	Not ideal for long term outdoor use.
Sintra® Board 1/8" PVC based material	Thick and rigid, works both indoors and outdoors. Ideal for slide in frames, can be cut to shape.	Can crack in extreme cold weather.
Styrene .030 or .060 flexible plastic	Thin and light, great for indoor use, slide in frames big or small.	Not ideal for outdoor use, requires extra support because of flexibility.
Signpro Board 3/16" Hard board sandwiched between bright white finish	Moisture-resistant, perfect for slide in frames or mount to wall. Stain resistant.	Weight, unfinished edges. Not suitable for long term outdoor use.
Dibond® Plastic core sandwiched between two .013 aluminum sheets	Rigid and durable, suited for indoor and outdoor use. Can be cut into custom shapes.	Unfinished edges.
